

CONSTRUCTION ZONE SAFETY

Mountain View Corridor, Salt Lake County: 4100 South to S.R. 201

Dear Parents,

Construction sites mean that kids should be cautious. When they see orange, they should Think Safety.

Mountain View Corridor construction is underway between 4100 South and S.R. 201. The project includes adding two lanes in each direction with signalized intersections and a biking and walking trail. The anticipated completion date for the project is summer 2021.

Construction sites are very dangerous places. Children should not play in or around these areas.

Please share the following Think Safety rules with your children:

CONSTRUCTION ZONES: BIG TRUCKS. BIG DANGER.

- Don't play in or around construction zones
- Orange means construction
- Be alert and careful near construction zones
- Cross only at designated areas: look left, look right and then left again
- If you can't see the truck driver's face, they can't see you

Thank you for helping children Think Safety around construction sites.
